

SHEFFIELD CHILDREN'S NHS FOUNDATION TRUST TEENAGERS AND EPILEPSY

Who can teenagers with Epilepsy contact for advice and support?

Pippa Hall, Epilepsy Outreach Nurse.
Pippa is based at The Ryegate Children's Centre.

How can Pippa help?

Pippa is able to visit a young person in their own home and discuss any worries or concerns they may have about their epilepsy.

Pippa also sees teenagers in her own clinic at Ryegate.

Is there a School Support Service for teenagers with epilepsy?

Pippa can help and support you through many different problems at school ie: bullying, lack of knowledge about epilepsy.

Pippa is able to visit schools to provide advice and information about epilepsy.

Do the doctors have special clinics for teenagers with epilepsy?

Some of the doctors at Ryegate have special clinics for teenagers with epilepsy.

What happens in an teenage epilepsy clinic?

A young person will be given the opportunity to see the doctor alone for part of the consultation; they will then be joined by their parents for the rest of the consultation.

Does Pippa hold her own clinics for teenagers?

Yes. As well as being present in the doctors clinics Pippa also runs her own counselling clinics. You will be invited to one of these clinics. Topics such as driving, career, alcohol, relationships, safety etc. will be discussed.

How can I contact Pippa?

You can contact Pippa by letter, telephone call, e mail or by leaving a message with another member of the neurology team.
